

fixing free speech

internet is fucked

first world thinks it is ubiquitous

third world can't afford it

not reliable in war
zones

censorship left right
and center

we depend largely on a single cable in NZ

calling it open and reliable is really an overstatement

how to fix it?

go back in time

rinse and repeat

what does that mean?

go back to low
bandwidth

find new ways to transmit data

use what we learned in the past 20 years

build new infrastructure

HF radio is free

low bandwidth but it does transmit data

easier than shooting
satellites in the orbit

cheaper than throwing cable in the sea

join us to work on:

open.plumbing

low power HF radios
to transmit over 100km
distance

cheap
fun
needs devs
